SWIFT THROUGH THE NIGHT

THROUGH the silent space of the night it comes to you... like a shimmering beam—then the deep, illuminated glow of a charcoal berry glowing, and finally the twinkling stars that lie beyond the dark horizon.

It may be a T.C. & C.P.A. plane winging its wayward path... like a shimmering beam—then the deep, illuminated glow of a charcoal berry glowing, and finally the twinkling stars that lie beyond the dark horizon.

There was another reason why the damage in Leningrad had not been so great as I previously had supposed. When buildings on the main streets were damaged, they were not destroyed. They were not destroyed. They were not destroyed.

For Millions of Fighting Men... the BIG Battles Are Still Ahead!

In the inferno of invasion, men fall . . . praying for victory with their lives. Yet other men behind and around them press forward . . . relentlessly forward . . . until the objective is taken.

It's thrilling to read about such victories . . . to boast "I knew we could do it!" . . . to let ourselves believe the war is as good as won.

But our fighting men in Army, Navy and Air Force who are facing a desperate, strongly-fortified enemy know . . . at first hand . . . that the road to final victory is both long and tough.

Our fighting men know that the attacking force must have countless ships, planes, tanks and guns to blast death and destruction on the enemy—or be thrown back.

Our fighting men know that such equipment must be quickly replaced in a never-ending supply line of ships, landing barges and trucks . . . for the toll of modern warfare is tremendous.

Our fighting men dare not slacken for a single moment until the final shot is fired. To back their valor, their courage, their readiness to sacrifice all . . . we at home must have but one purpose in all our thinking, all our plans—TO PUT VICTORY FIRST!

Anything less than this will be fouling our fighting men in their crucial hour. To put victory first, we must put every dollar we can into Victory Bonds . . . out of savings, or on the Monthly Savings Plan out of earned income.

Our fighting men are going to win those big battles still ahead. But they need help—your help.

Can any man or woman on the home front refuse to back them up . . . to the very limit . . . at a time like this?

THERE IS A HUNGER FOR THE EARTH

● In the hearts of tens of thousands of Canadians now serving overseas, there is a hunger for the land, for the feel of the plow and the rich smell of good, turned earth. A starvation for the sight of growing things, instead of things destroyed. A gnawing at the vitals for the lights in the window, and cattle in the barn, and hay in the mow.

But that hunger cannot be satisfied, until they have travelled far in strange lands in search of the Beast that would destroy Freedom. When the Beast is slain, then the hunger will be so deep as to reach right into the soul of each Canadian who loves the land, a hunger that will be stilled when he stands again waist-deep in the waving grain, and gathers to himself the strength and the goodness and the plenty of the land.

To those of our finest citizens who want to return to the land after Victory, Canada Unlimited can offer what they have paid for so dearly . . . the broad fields of West and North and East and South, the untouched valleys, begging for the hands that can love, nurture and develop them, the limitless plains beckoning on and ever on.

Then will their hunger be satisfied.

It is ours to see that the land is theirs by our continued buying and holding of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates, which are, in reality, shares in the vast natural resources of "Canada Unlimited".
